by Ms. Ashman, Middle School Art and High School Photography Teacher

This year, Fabius-Pompey had seven students win CNY Scholastic Art Awards! Especially during this unprecedented time, our students pulled through and created wonderful works of art! It is a great accomplishment to receive an award from Scholastic. They do not give out many awards, and the students compete with other schools from all around Central New York.

FROM DANIEL S. SILKY BUSINESS ADMINISTRATOR

Routines. Like most of you, I love being in my routine...whether that is at work or home. It helps me feel productive and allows for a sense of accomplishment when I can "check off" something on my list. One of the many challenges caused by the pandemic is that it threw me out of my routines. I am sure many of you can relate...

The budget season is a very important routine in the district's business office. This can feel overwhelming and not straightforward to many among the community. Indeed, it is! A $20M annual operating budget has many moving parts! Yet, every year we must prepare a budget – even while dealing with a pandemic. I have made an attempt to simplify and summarize the steps to preparing the school budget below. While there are many steps and this just scrapes the surface of what each involves, these steps do lend themselves to a routine...which I love!

1. Set Budget Calendar and Budget Procedures – this ideally happens in October of the current year. For example, in the fall of 2021, F-P approved the budget calendar to prepare the 2022-23 school year budget. It gives structure to the budget development process and holds those involved accountable. This might seem early, but you will notice below why it must be approved in the fall.
2. Complete BOCES Initial Service Request – by mid-December, BOCES needs an initial sense of what services each district will be purchasing for the following year. Discussions within the district should begin as soon as November to determine services needed, whether services should be increased or decreased, and whether services are no longer needed. BOCES needs this information across all the districts because BOCES is a shared services organization and the participation of districts drives the cost of the service. BOCES approves its budget in April, which is needed by the districts so they know the cost of their BOCES services.
3. During January, the state releases projected aid amounts that it will provide to each district. These aid amounts are not final until the state adopts its state budget by April 1.
4. During February, the tax cap is calculated. This cap is used to determine by how much a district can increase its tax levy with a simple majority vote. This impacts your school tax bill that you receive in September.
5. During March, the administrators and department heads work together to determine what supplies and contractual services are needed.
6. By the end of April, the budget must be finalized so the district can prepare its Property Tax Report Card. This card details the three parts of the budget along with whether or not reserves will be used to support the budget.
7. Budget Newsletter and Hearing – the Budget Newsletter is the district's opportunity to present the budget in a form – three-parts – required by law. This format is meant to clearly communicate how much will be spent on instruction, administration and capital costs. At the hearing, which must take place seven to fourteen days before the vote, the budget is presented to attendees to further explain its three parts.
8. Voting Day – the third Tuesday is the statewide budget vote day.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEWS Cristina Knapp, Principal

It is hard to believe, but we recently celebrated the 100th day of school! 100 days of learning and growing! This has provided an opportunity for some well-spent reflection. This reflection brings to mind the moments to celebrate.

Personally, I would like to celebrate our students. I am truly humbled by their perseverance. They show up every day with a smile (behind their masks) and joy in their hearts. They are ready to learn, willing to lend a helping hand, and excited to be a part of our learning community. They push through challenging content. They ask questions, offer support to their peers and prove that they can do anything if they put their minds to it. Our students are truly an inspiration.

The list is endless on how much learning really takes place throughout 100 days. These days have taught our students the lessons they will carry with them for life: patience, resilience, compassion, grit, humor. I could continue on with this list, as they are learning so much more than that. This could not happen without the staff and families here at Fabius-Pompey Elementary. We are so fortunate to have a community like Fabius-Pompey that supports our school as we support our students through this work.

SHAKESPEARE COMPETITION NEWS

by Mrs. Pollard and Ms. Schoonmaker, Advisors

On Thursday, January 27, eight brave Fabius-Pompey students delivered Shakespeare monologues in front of three judges. The performers' journeys began in October when Ms. Schoonmaker held a workshop for students who were interested in joining the competition. From there, they memorized, studied plays, practiced, recited, modified, practiced again, and were completely prepared for Thursday. With confidence, poise and style they took to the stage and were fabulous. This year's winner was Ella Cornell, who performed a monologue as Hecate, the witch, from Macbeth. Maddy Hutson and Melissa Moore came in second and third respectively.

Ella will go on to compete regionally in March. We wish her all the luck in the world. A special thank you goes out to our judges: Ms. Kim Buchanan, Ms. Lois Haas and Mr. Nick Swensen. And, Ms. Kelsey Hall for pitching in when we needed her!

MS-HS THEATRE PROGRAM NEWS

by Ms. Schoonmaker, Theatre Program Advisor

Theatrical Awards for Fabius-Pompey

The Fabius-Pompey Theatre Program was honored with several awards from the Theatre Association of New York State (TANYS). TANYS, the primary voice of community and educational theatre in New York, "supports the growth of all aspects of the craft of theatre by providing theatrical resources, networking, recognition, and outreach services to its constituents."

Students in our Middle School Musical Moana Junior participated in a learning adjudication with a trained TANYS professional. This adjudication provided an opportunity for our group to hear constructive, objective feedback about their work. The adjudicator came to Fabius, watched the performance, then talked with our students about ways to develop their skills as performers and theatre technicians.

Our cast, crew and production team learned a great deal from the adjudication process and were granted the following awards in recognition of their outstanding work.

The entire cast of *Moana Junior was recognized for their Ensemble Acting with a Meritorious Achievement Award.

Hannah Wilbur and Sarah Rossi received Meritorious Achievement Awards in Acting for their portrayals of Gramma Tala and Moana.

A Meritorious Achievement Award in Costume Design was given to Kristin Palazzoli.

Susan Schoonmaker was honored with an Award of Excellence in Theatrical Education.

As part of their 2021 Virtual Theatre Awards Celebration, the Theatre Association of New York State also presented Susan Schoonmaker and Dylan Spencer with an Outstanding Videography Award for their work on You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown.

We are proud of the excellent theatrical work that is taking place in our school and are grateful for the support we receive for our program from the Fabius-Pompey community and administration. Our High School Musical will be the quirky, fun comedy The Addams Family.

Performances of The Addams Family will take place on March 18 at 7:00 p.m. and March 19 at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. There will be livestreaming and in-person viewing options available. Mark your calendar now!!
